2. Tell us your story:

"I have recently returned back to New York after 15 years," Jen said. "I lived in LA for 5 years working in Hollywood as a Production Designer and Art Director for Film and Television. I've always been a designer beginning my career in Interior Design and Computer Aided Drafting, then transitioned to Theatrical Set Design while living in Sarasota Florida and Production Design for Film in LA. Now I have come full circle and am working in my family's business." Jennifer's family owns Barn Livin' - Building Green Homes for Blue Collars, where she works alongside her mother, Sue Oliver, here in upstate New York. Jennifer added that green living and design have always been a passion of her, and she strives daily to limit her carbon footprint and leave this world better for future generations. "I found my passion in Arbonne because it is also a company with that same mission statement and has given myself and so many others an improved lifestyle," she explained. "When I found Arbonne I lost 25lbs by simply reevaluating how I fueled my body. 6 months later I am maintaining my weight loss and loving my new lifestyle. I love sharing these amazing products with everyone in my life."

3. What has helped you succeed and gain experience?

"Throughout my life I have never been afraid to explore and experience life to its fullest," Jennifer said. "Being somewhat of a wanderlust traveler at heart, I have lived and worked in many fields and locations." She believes this to be one of her strengths, as it has helped her gain deeper understanding and allows her to see the big picture. "Living in new places and meeting different and interesting people from all walks of life is what life is all about to me," she explained. "I cherish all of the relationships I have all over the world, and look forward to making many more."

4. What inspires you?

Jennifer said she is inspired daily by artists and everyday people making positive changes in the world. "I love the visual satisfaction of watching new inspiring shows and movies that tell a story from which we can all take a different lesson from," she added. "As a designer, and mainly a Production Designer, it is my job to create worlds for the written word. I love seeing others' representations of this and how they approach it on their own. It is so empowering to witness simple acts of kindness that show everyone can make an impact on this life and an improvement in the world."

5. What keeps you up at night? What are your challenges?

"Knowing the horrible toxins and chemicals that are added into our food source and skincare products scares me to my core. Educating myself on these ingredients has been truly eye opening and life changing," Jennifer stated. "Our skin is our largest organ, and it absorbs everything we put on it daily. This makes it a perfect storm for toxins entering our body and blood stream, unknowingly to most. Many of the common disorders around today are caused simply by toxic overload of our mind and bodies. Arbonne is a Health and Wellness product line based in Swiss Heritage, and we comply with European Standards, eliminating over 1300 ingredients from all of our products." Jennifer explained that the US only bans 7 ingredients, but more ingredients are banned in other countries because they are known to have harmful aspects to them. "It is mind boggling to me that here companies can put anything they want in our products and it is not questioned. Many people are sick due to these multi-million-dollar industries."

6. What is your favorite local activity?

Jennifer said that since moving back to upstate New York she has loved getting reacquainted with the beautiful outdoors. "I love exploring all of the quaint small towns this area has to offer," she said. "Hiking and walking around the lake are a few of my favorite activities. Even with the chilly weather this time of year I have enjoyed bundling up and exploring outdoors. I love staying active in every way possible and strive to always keep moving."
